

From the Knickerbocker.

FEARS.

By the Honorable Chief Justice Mellen, Maine.

Christians, where are your recesses,
Where the home of your repose,
When the world around carouses,
And the heart no sorrow knows?
Then the eye is bright and gleaming,
As a summer's smiling day;
Joy and peace may there beaming,
Still undisturbed by their way.

Why should sudden bursts of feeling,
Why should transport, flood the eyes?
Why, when from your fountain swelling,
Do ye flow 'mid rapture's sighs?
Where's the fount, whence pain and anguish
Call ye forth for their relief?
Casting agony to languish
Into deep and darkening grief?

Chrysalis tears, so freely pouring,
Prompt their duty to perform;
Till when gentle gales are blowing
Round the heart, and when the storm;
Messengers of gladness, rushing,
Bearing orders from the heart;
Showering checks in beauty blushing,
Laughing at the Painter's art.

Messengers of deepest sorrow,
From the heart of cruel pain;
Hoping still to rise to-morrow,
While hope's promises are vain!
Messengers of tender passion,
Melting sympathy and love,
Hearts overflowing with compassion,
Warmed with influence from above.

Messengers from hearts despairing,
And from conscience, in alarm;
Its frightful catalogue preparing,
And no aid from mortal arm;
Messengers from hearts repenting,
Washing out the stains of sin;
Mercy smiling—Heaven assenting—
Peace around and peace within!

PROSPECTS OF

THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE AND REPUBLICAN REVIEW.

H. J. BRENT, ESQ., EDITOR.

THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE AND REPUBLICAN REVIEW will be published in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on the 1st day of January next, and will be delivered monthly in all parts of the United States, devoted exclusively to the advancement of the great principles of the Whig party, and the encouragement of literature and science.

The experience of the past year has confirmed in the minds of the more reflecting and sagacious of the Whig party that a vacuum exists in the periodical press of the country, in which should be combined the productions of our great statesmen on literary and scientific subjects, and those of the eminent literary geniuses of which the United States can boast so ample a share, on the various subjects that present themselves to a sound and vigorous intellect.

It cannot be doubted that the present crisis demands the publication of a work calculated to inform and circulate true and honest political information, and to counteract the direful influence exerted by a monthly periodical of a similar nature published in this city, under the auspices, and bearing the name of the self-styled Democracy of the present day, advocating measures which, if successful, are destined to moulder to ruins the fabric of our noble Constitution, by placing constructions on it to suit the caprice and advance the teachings of a corrupt ambition.

The union of such principles with a general literature as have insulted the common sense and honesty of the country, by proclaiming the "Martyrdom of Chilly," rendered in a manner more detestable than the insidious way in which they are combined, demands the national disorganization of all that an American should be held most sacred. This combination is calculated to secure them a circulation in quarters to which they might not otherwise penetrate, as well as from a certain deceptive air of high-toned philanthropy and expansive liberality of views, with which they are artfully able to invest themselves, for the purpose of stealing their way into the heads through the unsuspecting hearts of that class on which depends the destiny and hopes of the nation—the young men. Whilst the most experienced sagacity of older heads can never hesitate a moment in recognising the real naked deformity of these principles of modern Radicalism, under all the fair seeming disguises they may assume, yet to the young they are repulsive with a subtle danger of the most pernicious character.

The National Magazine and Republican Review is designed, and will be conducted with these and other high important considerations in view, calculated to correct mis-constructions, and to inculcate the correct political principles on which alone the views and practice of the great Republican Whig party, as well as for the encouragement and maintenance of genuine political literature. The publishers will neither spare expense in the mechanical department of the work, nor their utmost efforts to render the Review useful to the Public in a literary point of view, and honorable to the country and cause which it is destined to espouse as a National work.

The period is fast arriving when the country will emerge from the dominion of a party which has come into power under the corrupt influence of a mislaid popular prejudice, and which has advocated and sailed under the broad and corrupt motto of office-seekers, "to the victors belong the spoils of the vanquished," being alike anti-republican, unconstitutional, and a foul stain upon the free institutions of the country, that can only be eradicated by the triumph of the principles which govern the Republican Whig party of the present day.

The advocates of the principles of the nation, who have stood foremost in opposition to the Constitution and Laws when they were as detestable as a party could be, expecting the strength of a Leonidas battling with the host of Xerxes, and have nearly succeeded in rescuing the Government from the grasp of corruption, will deem it their imperative duty to continue their efforts, and it cannot better be done than by supporting a periodical of high standing for sound political principles and literary worth; and such a one will be found in the National Magazine and Republican Review.

The success of the Magazine will therefore depend, in a measure, on the great body of the opponents of the present Administration, whose interest it will be to aid in its permanent establishment. And it will be equally binding on the talented and patriotic band of leading Whigs to spare neither time nor labor to the explanation and advocacy of the true and only principles on which the Government can prosper, and on the success of which depends the great experiment of Republican Government.

Having made these few remarks on the political cast of the publication, we feel confident that its utility will be readily perceived by the Public, and fully appreciated. In addition to the political features, the following will be the principal subjects on which the Review will treat, from the pens of most celebrated writers of the present day:

Reviews and Critical Notices will occupy a portion of its pages, thereby giving to the genius, and ensure to such productions only as are richly deserving of it.

A Sketch of the Proceedings of Congress will be given at the close of each session, in which will be explained the cause and effect of all prominent acts and measures, compiled by a gentleman of acknowledged ability and opportunity to arrange and collect such matters as will prove both interesting and instructive.

Election Returns will be given in a tabular form, embracing all elections of importance in the various States, as early as practicable after the reception of official returns.

Essays and Tales will also form an important part of the work, and all original articles of this character will receive prompt attention. The object of the publishers, next to enhancing the good cause in which they have embarked, will be to furnish the reader with such matters as will both instruct and amuse; such as:

Sketches and Reminiscences of events too minute for history.

Biographical and Historical Sketches of distinguished personages, &c.

Original Poetry will be well sprinkled through its pages.

Engravings of Distinguished Statesmen—If the work should receive the same success as is usually extended to periodicals of a literary and scientific character, the subscribers to the Review will not only find their numbers embellished with these desirable plates, but also with many other valuable improvements.

TERMS. THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE AND REPUBLICAN REVIEW will be published in monthly numbers of eighty octavo pages each, on fine paper, with new and handsome type, and in the most approved modern and type-set.

Annual appearance, at the moderate price of Five Dollars a year, payable in all cases in advance, or on the delivery of the third number, without respect to persons.

Any person forwarding ten respectable subscribers and becoming responsible for the amount of their subscriptions for the first year, shall receive a copy gratis as long as they may continue subscribers.

The publishers will be responsible for all moneys forwarded by mail, in case of misdirection, provided the certificate of the Postmaster shall be secured, and copies forwarded accordingly.

If a subscriber shall not order his subscription to be discontinued at the expiration of the year, he shall be considered as wishing the Review continued, which shall be forwarded, and the subscription money expected on the receipt of the third number, as in the first instance.

No subscription taken for a less term than one year.

All communications, post paid, addressed to the publishers at their residence, Georgetown, D. C., will receive prompt attention.

Publishers of newspapers who will copy the foregoing prospectus will receive a copy of the work in exchange, and also confer a lasting favor upon the proprietors.

FULTON & SMITH.

PROPOSALS For publishing in the city of Washington a weekly newspaper, to be devoted to the interests of RELIGION and LITERATURE, to be called

THE METROPOLITAN CHURCHMAN

REV. PHILIP SLAUGHTER, Editor.

When a Minister of the Lord Jesus Christ ceases to preach the Gospel, a decent respect for the opinions of the Church and the world requires that he should declare the causes which impel him to take this step. In the present case the Editor was arrested in his ministerial functions by the hand of disease, and his voice hushed by the precept of the physician. He is driven, therefore, by an imperative necessity to do something for the support of his family. Shall he go back to the world and resume his secular pursuits? Most secular occupations would be as incompatible with the state of his health, as revolting to his feelings and principles.

The only alternative, then, is to adopt that mode of life which is most kindred to his profession, and which, next to the living voice of the preacher, seems to be the most fitting instrument to promote the glory of God, and the happiness of his creatures. In his judgment a religious press is that instrument—the press being confessedly one of the mightiest levers that moves this mortal world. He has chosen Washington as the locality of this press for various reasons. It is a centre from whence roads and canals radiate to every point in our extensive territory, affording opportunities of easy and rapid communication with all parts of the Union. It is, as the political metropolis of this great Nation, it is the source of mighty moral influences for evil or for good. Every interest in the country is beginning to appreciate the importance of this fact. Newspapers, magazines, and pamphlets, expressing every variety of opinion, in politics, morals and religion, are daily going forth as missionaries to every State, town, county, and family of this great nation, fixing the principles, and moulding the manners of its citizens. Under these circumstances he has thought that the publishers of the United States would like to see a press established at this great centre of moral influences, displaying the emblems of the Gospel, and inscribed with the motto of that Church which was built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, was cemented with the blood of a glorious army of martyrs, and which says to the angry surges of error, which are beating against her bulwarks, and battering down the walls of other societies, "here shall thy proud waves be stayed."

The general design of this paper will be the advancement of society in knowledge and religion; and to this end it will contain a selection of the best and most useful works of literature as in the walls of the Church, has been secured.

As to the peculiar view of the Editor in Religion, it is enough to say that he is a Minister of the Episcopal Church, and that it will be his continual aim to maintain that Church in her integrity, to exhibit, illustrate, and defend her distinctive features, and to hand her down to our children inviolate, as we received her from our fathers.

P. S.—This paper will contain a weekly summary of such facts of Congress and other facts as are of public interest, and such notices and reviews of the current literature of the day, as will not be unbecoming its religious professions.

TERMS.—Three dollars per annum, payable on delivery of the first number.

All Episcopal Clergymen who approve the design of this paper, are desired to act as its agents, or to procure agents for it in their respective parishes, desiring them to forward the names of subscribers to the editor at Georgetown, D. C.

Publishers throughout the country will confer a favor by procuring the above.

THE SOUTHERN SILK MANUAL, and Farmer's Magazine.—This work will be published under the auspices of a number of gentlemen actively engaged in the cultivation of Mulberry trees, feeding of the worms, and the manufacture of silk. It will be edited by E. YEATES REESE, and furnished to subscribers at one dollar per annum.

Ample arrangements have been made, and correspondence established, to enable the editor to present a work containing all the information necessary to the planting and cultivation of the trees, the feeding of the worms, and the successful management of the entire silk business. The work will also contain valuable information on agriculture and farming generally.

It will be the particular object of the editor to promote the interest of those engaged in the silk culture in the Southern and Western States; as there the cultivator possesses peculiar advantages in respect to climate, soil, in his case.

Orders by letter, (post paid) with the subscription for the year, will receive prompt attention. Address E. Yeates Reese, Baltimore.

Persons desirous to have the above valuable work supplied by calling at my store, near the 7 Buildings, Dec. 8

CONSUMPTION!

DR. RELEF'S ASTHMATIC PILLS have, from their extraordinary success in giving relief, and in curing Coughs, Asthma, Difficulty of Breathing, Wheezing, Tightness of the Chest, Pain in the Side, Spitting of Blood, Chillsiness and Shiverings that precede Fevers and Lung Complaints generally! become one of the most popular Medicines known, and are sought after from every part of the country, on account of the astonishing success which has attended their administration in the above complaints, frequently curing the most obstinate cases, and giving the most unexpected relief after every other remedy has failed, and persons had given themselves up in despair of a cure.

They have been known to cure persons supposed to be far gone in consumption, and exhibiting all the appearance of approaching dissolution.

And such have been the salutary effects of these Pills even in hopeless cases, as so far to mitigate the sufferings of the patient, as evidently to prolong life for days and weeks, and give to it a positive comfort they never expected to enjoy.

The operation of the pills is wonderful in easing respiration, quieting the cough, and procuring comfortable rest.

Common colds are frequently removed in a few hours.

"Although (says a person speaking of these Pills) my wife has tried various medicines of the first celebrity for an Asthmatic difficulty, (or affection of the lungs), which at times was exceedingly distressing, confining her to her house for days and weeks together, she finds nothing gives her the relief which Dr. Relief's Asthmatic Pills do, except her respiration, quieting her cough, and giving her comfortable rest." And this is the testimony of hundreds of thousands. The relief which aged people, as well as others, experience from the use of these Pills, is truly astonishing, and renders them invaluable to many, and are in fact, to some, an essential auxiliary to their comfort, and almost to their existence!

A Physician informs the Proprietor, that a gentleman in the country observed to him, he had reason to believe the use of these Pills had been the means of saving his life.

Price—whole boxes, 30 Pills, $1; half do. 12 Pills 50 cents.

Prepared by Thompson Ridder, Boston, and for sale at TODD'S Drug Store.
